CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON AT METHODIST CHURCH

Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church was aglow with Yuletide decorations on Monday, December 1, when the annual Christmas luncheon was enjoyed by members of all circles of the WSCS. Red candles, a gold cloth, and red and gold decorations were used on the head table. Simulated Christmas trees and sequined balls made one table in silver, one in gold, one in red and white, and one in multi-colors.

The Rev. W.R. Burks offered the invocation before a delicious potluck meal was served buffet-style. WSCS President, Mrs. Steven Bader, presided over a brief session after lunch during which the circle count was taken and the Christmas offering was made.

For the program, the group went upstairs to the main sanctuary, where Mrs. B.C. Hyatt, organist, played "O Come Emmanuel," "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," "Sleep of the Child Jesus," "Thou Must Leave Thy Lowly Dwelling," "In Dulci Jubilo," "A Lovely Rose Bursts Into Bloom," and two selections by Handel, "Pastorale Symphony" and "Come Unto Him." In conclusion, a medley of Christmas carols was sung by the assembly.

She said 530 are enrolled in the Concentrated Employment program, 502 in the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector program and 166 in the Work Incentive Program.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. DANNY LEE IGOW

The Liberty Baptist Church was the scene Wednesday, November 26 at 6 p.m. of the wedding of Miss Judy Carol Barham and Danny Lee Igow.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John E. Barham and the late Mr. Barham of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Igow of Borger, Texas.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the officiating minister John H. Carlton, before an altar of baskets of white glads and candelabra.

The bride was attired in a beau de sou satin gown with lace trim and her bouquet was an orchid surrounded by white carnations. Her attendants were matron of honor, Joy Carlton and bridesmaid Jamie Carlton. David Plummer was best man and ushers were Gary Barham and David Beaver.

A reception was held following the wedding.

Data About Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Ken Hargis, Social Security, P. O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501. Your name will be printed in the HOPE STAR unless you request that it be withheld.

Q. How does a home-confined person conduct business with the social security office?

A. We will call at the residence of one who is confined to his home for health reasons. Often we can handle many of your problems by telephone, by mail or a friend or relative may help.

Q. I have a loan at the bank which I want to pay off. Can my social security check be mailed directly to the bank so I won't have to bother with it?

A. No, social security benefits cannot be assigned. Therefore we will continue mailing the checks to you at your address. You may then endorse the check and use it to pay your bills.

Q. My five year old daughter receives social security on her deceased father's record, as I did until I remarried. Now I plan to get a divorce. Am I eligible to receive payments again?

A. Yes, you are eligible to receive payments again if your present marriage ends in divorce or death.

Q. I have a 21 year old child who is disabled. I understand she may be due some payments from social security. Am I correct?

A. In certain cases, yes. A child who became disabled before age 18 can receive payments on the social security account of an insured parent who is retired under social security, disabled, or deceased. Such an adult child may receive monthly payments throughout his life if he remains unable to work and is unmarried.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—CBS preempted a situation comedy Monday night to report on the first lottery drawing in the new draft procedures.

The special half-hour report in mid-evening showed the blue capsules being pulled, one by one from the plexiglass bowl in a ceremony but concentrated more on the results. Essentially the special report served to end the suspense of young Americans of draft age and their families by showing the order of birth dates in the lottery.

NBC wrapped up the story by interrupting its feature movie broadcast later in the evening and ABC handled it in their late news program.

On the entertainment front, it was a big Johnny Carson night. Carson popped up in some gags on NBC's "Laugh-In," and was the guest star on the rival CBS "Here's Lucy." Johnny and Ed McMahon played themselves on Lucille Ball's show and they didn't do it very well.

Lucy and family attended a Carson broadcast and, of course, became involved with the stars. Miss Ball can give Carson lessons in comedy.

The vastness, the cold, the wealth and the rugged pioneers of modern Siberia are the subjects of another fine CBS special in the National Geographic Society series to be broadcast tonight.

The hour-long treatment is a change of style for the series—a broad survey of the huge but little known "booming new frontier" of the Soviet Union.

Siberia still means, to most of us, an ice-bound place of exile. Cold it is—temperatures drop as low as 96 below zero above the Arctic Circle and to 50 below in some of its growing cities. But despite the climate, it is attracting European Russians by the millions to its manufacturing, its hydroelectric power, its mineral wealth.

One portion is devoted to the development of Irkutsk, a town of a half million that looks like a snow-covered frontier town of the 1900s. Others show nomad tribes of the far north with their herds of horses and reindeer.

Essentially it is a story of the railroad—the trans-Siberian—which is the steel lifeline of the 5-million square miles expanse. Rails between Moscow and Vladivostok have resulted in increasing the population from 6-million to 25-million. It not only moves supplies and people but brings medical and dental care, provides shops on wheels and even lectures on current events.

It was a brilliantly photographed—some of the northern Siberia scenes are so vivid one can almost feel the bitter cold—and had a commentary full of small human details.

Indian Power Pressing Influence

DETROIT (AP) — Along with proponents of black power, woman power and youth power, Indian power is pressing for more influence in the churches.

Its case was presented Monday to the triennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches by leaders of American Indians.

"We are hungry, brothers," said Dennis Banks, a Chippewa Indian from Minneapolis in asking the council to approve a $750-million program to advance the welfare of Indians. Banks is the newly elected president of the American Indian Movement.

The large-scale financial request paralleled black demands for church restitution to Negroes for alleged past injustices, as declared in the controversial Black Manifesto.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

A CHANGE OF HEART AND MIND

Dear Helen: We married at 16. We're now nearly 20, with a sweet little girl and another baby on the way.

I honestly thought Jim and I had a good marriage in spite of the "have to" thing. Problems, yes, but they seemed to make us better people. All this time my love for my husband has been growing, but I guess he always felt trapped.

Last week he said he didn't love me and wanted to be free. It was a terrible shock. We didn't have a fight or even a disagreement. There's nobody else.

Now I'm staying with my parents who have been wonderful. Jim is paying support. He has called every day and been to see us once. Our daughter loves it here with her grandparents, but we miss him so. Can love just suddenly die, in a fellow who, I know, really loved his wife and child?—HELPI

Dear Help: Love doesn't suddenly die, but sometimes it gets short-circuited by the "Wish I Were Single Again" blues. Honest now, haven't you sometimes felt them too?

A temporary separation may be the best help of all. You're getting a vacation at a time when you need it most, and Jim is already discovering freedom isn't as much fun as the dream of it. My IGAP ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") says you'll be together again by Christmas.—H.

Dear Helen: I'm what you call a hippie-type. No Puritan, but no pushover. Here are two true incidents that prove my point better than preaching:

My girl friend and I liked some really groovy guys who hung around with tramps. When they began to like us and we expressed surprise, they said, "Didn't you think we could like NICE girls for a change?"

Then there was the time at a friend's house when one of the boys said he intended to make love to me that night. I asked if he planned rape or seduction, and he said, "Gentle Persuasion. You like me right?"

"Very much, yes." (He's terribly good looking and considerate.)

"And there's nothing wrong with sex; it's beautiful, right?"

"Not with a guy who'd make love to me and forget my name. Where's the part that makes

Gift That's

Twice the Fun to Give, Receive

What to do with a gift that's round?

Or one that rattles in its box and gives away its identity?

These are questions often posed at Christmas time.

Take, for example, a bowling ball. It's pretty obvious under the tree—even when wrapped in its packaging carton.

You can tell by the way the box rattles and by its weight that indeed there is a bowling ball inside.

But, suggests Brunswick Corporation, there's a way that the gift can be disguised so the surprise remains until Christmas morning.

First, take the ball out of its normal box and insert it instead into a hat box lined with old towels. Then, to add to the ruse, stuff towels around the ball so it cannot move, and gaily wrap the box. Now even when investigated by Christmas "spies," the gift will remain a secret.

A pair of bowling shoes to match will remain a secret if packed securely into the ball box.

The bowling bag presents a serious challenge to the best disguisers. One suggestion: From your grocer, obtain a large soap box; fill it with newspaper and lay the bag on top, then wrap the package.

Gift wrapping secrecy at Christmas can be as much of a challenge as you make it. And adds to the fun.

It human? I refuse to be just another line in a chain of beds!" "Are you a virgin?" "Yes."

He put his hands on my shoulders, kissed me on the forehead and whispered, "Stay that way a while, it's best for you."

That was the end of it. There have been similar incidents, but I think these two are representative. If a girl sets her standards and lives by them, isn't ashamed of them, and isn't critical of the way other people live, she should have no trouble. If she does, there is always the rarely-used but reliable stand-off of "I said no go, and that's that. I don't have to explain myself."—CHRIS, P.S. I'm 16, but most people take me for 19 or 20.

Dear Helen: I am a sophomore in a West Virginia school and am doing research on interracial dating. It's a subject that most kids talk about, but you don't see much written about it. Don't you get questions on the subject?—LINDA

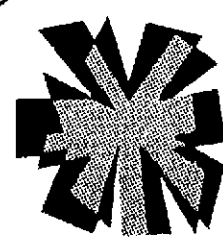

Dear Linda: I receive two or three questions a week on interracial dating, and I often print comments about interracial matters—but at the end of my column where they can be easily cut if editors feel the subject is still too hot to handle locally.

Tell you what: I'll ask for a reader-discussion of this touchy problem, then include the best letters in an EXTRA column to be used at the discretion of the newspaper.

Comments on interracial dating, anyone?—H.

Hope Rated 2nd in AA Football

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock, despite a scoreless tie with Little Rock Central Thanksgiving, has been named state champion in the final Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll.

The Warriors, however, were not a unanimous choice. They were named at the top on 10 of the 12 ballots cast by Arkansas sportswriters and sportscasters. The other two first place votes went to North Little Rock, which won its last five games in impressive fashion.

The tie with Central was the only blot on the Warriors' record. Hall was the only Class AAA or AAAA team to finish the season unbeaten.

Central, on the strength of the tie, jumped from fourth to second in the poll. The Thanksgiving game was one of seven shutouts the Tigers recorded during the season.

Springdale, which won the Class AAA title in a playoff with Jonesboro, dropped from second to third, three points behind Central.

North Little Rock, which whipped Little Rock Catholic 21-12 Thanksgiving, advanced from sixth to fourth. Catholic High fell from third to seventh.

Fort Smith, Northside, last year's state champion, is fifth followed by West Memphis, which advanced a notch from last week.

Newport, Texarkana and Fayetteville round out the top 10 in that order as they did last week.

Newport received 10 first-place votes and was an overwhelming choice in Class AA. Hope finished second and Arkadelphia third.

McGehee was named first in Class A on 11 of the 12 ballots. Unbeaten Augusta is second, followed by Ashdown, McGehee and Augusta clash in the Class A playoff Friday night.

The Class B rankings remain unchanged with Murfreesboro leading the pack. Next comes Stamps and Luxora.

Here are the results of The Associated Press poll with first place votes and total points in parentheses and total points at right:

1. LR Hall (10) (9-0-1) 118
2. LR Central (6-2-2) 100
3. Springdale (10-2) 97
4. North Little Rock (2) (7-4) 81
5. FS Northside (9-2) 62
6. West Memphis (9-1) 59
7. LR Catholic (9-3) 47
8. Newport (10-1) 43
9. Texarkana (7-4) 32
10. Fayetteville (8-3) 11

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkadelphia, El Dorado, Hope, Jonesboro and McGehee.

Class AA
1. Newport (10-1) 32
2. Hope (2) (10-2) 22
3. Arkadelphia (10-1) 14

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Malvern, Rogers and Sheridan.

Class A
1. McGehee (11) (13-0) 35
2. Augusta (1) (12-0) 24
3. Ashdown (10-2) 11

Others receiving votes: Aluma.

Class B
1. Murfreesboro (7) (10-0) 31
2. Stamps (5) (10-0) 28
3. Luxora (9-1) 13

Texas and Arkansas Rated 1-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Irrepressible Texas and immovable Arkansas held onto the one-two spots today in the Associated Press college football rankings, setting the stage for Saturday's blockbuster between the two Southwest powers.

The Longhorns stacked up 708 points, including 31 first place ballots, and the Razorbacks had 612 points and no first place votes from a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The two met at Fayetteville, Ark., in the glamor game of the year. At stake is the southwest Conference championship, the host spot in the Cotton Bowl and probably the No. 1 ranking.

After an idle weekend for most of the teams, which have finished regular season play, there was little change in the rest of the Top Twenty.

Penn State, one of the few teams in action, stayed No. 3 after blistering North Carolina State 33-8. The Nittany Lions, who garnered three first place votes, had 578 points.

Ohio State remained fourth with 479 points; Southern California was fifth with 426 and one first place vote; Missouri stayed in the sixth spot with 356 points and Michigan, No. 7 with 328 points and one first place ballot. All were idle Saturday.

Although both were idle, Louisiana State and Notre Dame swapped places. LSU moved up a notch to eighth and the Irish dropped one to ninth, rounding out the Top Ten was UCLA, which climbed a place, although finishing play for the season two Saturdays ago.

Auburn went from 12th to 11th after blasting Alabama 49-26; Tennessee went from 10th to 12th despite clouting Vanderbilt 40-27; Nebraska and Mississippi stayed 13th and 14th after days off and Purdue moved up a notch to 15th after an idle weekend.

West Virginia, Stanford, Florida, Houston and Toledo completed the Top Twenty.

Voting for the Top Twenty teams will continue after Saturday's Texas-Arkansas clash and a final tally will be held after the bowl games New Year's Day.

Texas and Arkansas warmed up for their important meeting with resounding victories on Thanksgiving Day. Texas pounded Texas A&M 49-12 and Arkansas bounced Texas Tech 33-0.

The Top Twenty, with first place votes in parentheses and total points. Points awarded for first 15 places based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-etc:

Rank	Team	Points
1.	Texas (31)	708
2.	Arkansas	612
3.	Penn State (3)	578
4.	Ohio State	479
5.	Southern Calif. (1)	426
6.	Missouri	356

20.	Toledo	14

"This defense is about 100 times better than last year's when we lost to Ohio State in the Rose Bowl," says McKay. "We feel we can keep a lot of people from doing a lot of things."

How good? Asked if he thought Notre Dame was in kicking a conversion for a 14-14 tie earlier in the season rather than trying for two points, McKay replied: "Notre Dame wouldn't have made a two-pointer against us all week."

This is the Trojans' fourth consecutive trip to Pasadena and McKay thinks it might have had an adverse effect last time. "I think it worked against us," he said, "because most of the boys had played there once or twice."

Steve Owens, Heisman Trophy-winning running back from Oklahoma, has already been named to the West team with the entire squad to be announced Friday.

Conference to Disband

NORMAL, Ill. (AP) — The four-member Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference voted to disband Monday, following the withdrawal of Illinois State University.

Otis, Moore to Lead in Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ohio State's Jim Otis and Army's Lynn Moore will lead the East's offense in the East-West Shrine game to be played in Stanford Stadium Dec. 27.

The entire East team was announced Monday. Army's Tom Cahill will be the head coach for the team with Alex Agase of Northwestern and Earle Edwards of North Carolina State acting as his assistants.

Otis, the Ohio State fullback, and Moore, Army's hero in a 27-0 win over Navy, will be joined in the East backfield by John Isenbarger of Indiana, top rusher in the Big 10, and his teammate, quarterback Harry Conso.

Steve Owens, Heisman Trophy-winning running back from Oklahoma, has already been named to the West team with the entire squad to be announced Friday.

Hockey Board to Consider Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's board of directors met here today to consider expansion for the 1970-71 season.

Buffalo and Vancouver were rumored to be in line for franchises since Baltimore and Cleveland have withdrawn their bids.

Vancouver, a West Coast Canadian city, has had one of the best-supported minor league franchises in recent years.

Buffalo interests appeared to have an inside track for a franchise since recently gaining seats on the board of governors, and helping establish a high franchise fee to reduce the number of bidders.

Brand, Powell All-SWC Repeaters

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — Four players were unanimous selections on the 1969 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference football team — fullback Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bob McKay both Texas, center Rodney Brand of Arkansas and defensive back Denton Fox of Texas Tech.

The only repeaters from the 1968 All-star squad as picked by the SWC coaches were Worster and Brand on offense and ends Richard Campbell of Texas Tech and Mike Deniro of Texas A&M and linebacker Cliff Powell of Arkansas on the defensive platoon.

Texas' James Street, a senior quarterback from Longview, was named the Most Valuable Player on the coaches' ballots although he was nipped by Southern Methodist's Chuck Hixson in voting for the first string quarterback berth.

Street was the instant decision maker in Texas' triple-option — the leading ground gaining machine in the nation. Street was responsible for handing the ball off to Worster, keeping it, or making a quick pitch to the halfback. He also proved he could pass when the defense ganged up on the Longhorns' wishbone T.

There were 13 players chosen on the offensive unit with Gary Hammond of Southern Methodist and Charles Speyer of Texas receiving an identical number of ballots for the wide receiver berth. Jim Bertelsen of Texas and Larry Stegert of Texas A&M tied for votes at a running back spot opposite Bill Burnett of Arkansas.

On defense, ends Richard Campbell of Texas Tech and Mike Deniro of Texas A&M tied for a slot opposite Texas' Bill Atesis who was selected by a wide margin.

The majority of the coaches voted for only four linemen and three linebackers so the middle guard position was dropped on defense.

Hammond, who teamed with the nation's premier Passer in Hixson to give SMU a constant sizzled touchdown threat, was named Offensive Sophomore of the Year.

Rice's Rodrigo Barnes, a line-backer-defensive end, was picked as the Defensive Sophomore of the Year.

Ed Marsh of Baylor, the nation's top punter, and Jerry Don Sanders of Texas Tech, place-kicking specialist, won awards.

Brand, Powell All-SWC Repeaters

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — Four players were unanimous selections on the 1969 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference football team — fullback Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bob McKay both Texas, center Rodney Brand of Arkansas and defensive back Denton Fox of Texas Tech.

The only repeaters from the 1968 All-star squad as picked by the SWC coaches were Worster and Brand on offense and ends Richard Campbell of Texas Tech and Mike Deniro of Texas A&M and linebacker Cliff Powell of Arkansas on the defensive platoon.

Texas' James Street, a senior quarterback from Longview, was named the Most Valuable Player on the coaches' ballots although he was nipped by Southern Methodist's Chuck Hixson in voting for the first string quarterback berth.

Street was the instant decision maker in Texas' triple-option — the leading ground gaining machine in the nation. Street was responsible for handing the ball off to Worster, keeping it, or making a quick pitch to the halfback. He also proved he could pass when the defense ganged up on the Longhorns' wishbone T.

Hope Girls, Boys Go to Prescott

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sportswriter

Tonight sends the Hope Bobcats and Lady Cats to Prescott for a pair of games there, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

And for the Bobcats, admittedly, Coach John Ross calls it "a big game for us," against one of the best teams in these parts that the Curley Wolves of Prescott have this season.

Coach Ted Kirby has put together a powerhouse with his '68-69 returnees and a talented crop of athletes from Prescott McRae added with consolidation this fall. They smashed Lewisville 100-31 a few nights ago and are well balanced in every department.

"They've got the height," commented Hope coach Ross, "but they also have a fine pair of guards in the Wren brothers."

They are Steve and Freddy Wren, both of whom are defensive ball-hawks with fine shooting ability to boot.

Of course, Hope will not give Prescott a victory by default. In fact, the Bobcats will be pulling hard to move out to a 2-0 start after beating Nashville 60-47 last Saturday.

About the Nashville game, Ross first commented that "we made far too many mistakes. We're not quite as prepared at this point as we might like to be, but the boys did show some hustle."

Besides the fumbling and bad passing, which might be attributed to over anxiousness and lack of experience, Ross was disappointed with the foul shooting. "We only hit 10 out of 23 for 43 per cent, and we should be up around 70 per cent."

Prescott will be much more of a challenge than the Nashville team which is a little off from some Scrapper teams of the past, and Hope for the most part will remain trying to find out how far they've come.

N. Carolina Gets Off to Good Start

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

The newly top-ranked South Carolina Gamecocks opened the 1969-70 college basketball campaign with an awesome victory but the shadow of defending national champion UCLA loomed in the background as the Bruins rolled to another easy triumph.

The Gamecocks, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press preseason poll, took to the road Monday night and trounced a tough Auburn squad 86-64 while the Lew Alcindor-less Bruins, ranked No. 4, opened at home and toyed with outmanned Arizona 90-65.

Kentucky, No. 2, opened in Adolph Rupp's favorite backyard, at home in Lexington, where the Wildcats are virtually untouchable, and pulled away to a 106-87 victory over West Virginia.

Rick Mount and No. 3 Purdue had a little tougher time, just squeezing by Tulsa 77-74 as Mount hit for two late field goals to settle the affair.

All of the eight teams in the Top 10 won, while Davidson, No. 5 and No. 8 Marquette were idle. New Mexico State, No. 6, topped Oklahoma Christian, 93-58, North Carolina, No. 7, swamped Florida Southern, 112-47, Villanova, No. 9, just barely edged Philadelphia Temple, 57-52 and Colorado, No. 10, ripped Air Force, 81-58.

South Carolina paced by junior Tom Owens, a 6-foot-10 forward, who hit for 27 points and grabbed 17 rebounds, hit on 59 per cent of their shots and out-rebounded Auburn 47-25.

Junior backcourt ace John Roche added 25 points and Bob Cremins had 15 in the Carolina attack. Bill Alexander had 26 for Auburn.

UCLA's new-look Bruins, running more with the graduation of three-time All-American Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 3-4 inch giant who led the West Coast to three straight national titles, opened up a 19-point margin on Arizona after only 10 minutes and it was all over.

UCLA got 21 points from junior cornerman Sid Wicks and 15 from sophomore guard Henry Bibb. Steve Patterson, Alcindor's replacement, dropped in 12 but chipped in with a game-high 18 rebounds. Four field goals by Wicks helped UCLA to their 30-11 early margin.

Kentucky, leading by 16 points midway in the second half, saw the margin reduced to nine, before storming back behind Mike Pratt and Dan Issel to put it out of reach.

Issel finished with 34 points and Pratt had 28. Larry Steele added 21 for the Wildcats while Dick Symons had 21 for the Mountaineers.

With 3:30 left to play, sophomore Bob Ford dropped in a free throw to snap a 70-70 tie and Mount quickly followed with two baskets to wrap up the victory for Purdue.

Mount had 29 points, hitting 13 of 26 from the field and three straight foul shots. Bolmermaker George Faerber grabbed 21 rebounds while Tulsa's Ron Carson was the game's leading scorer with 31 points.

New Mexico State rolled to a 60-23 halftime lead and coasted to its easy triumph. Jimmy Collins led the Aggies with 22 points while Sam Lacy snared 20 rebounds.

North Carolina jumped to a 12-0 lead and led 49-14 at halftime as five Tar Heels hit for double figures led by Charlie Scott with 17.

Villanova trailed by 13 points at 36-23 with 15:27 left in the game when Coach Jack Kraft switched his Wildcats from a zone defense to a man-to-man.

Villanova pulled to a 46-46 tie and pulled away in the final 2 1/2 minutes to stifle the upset-minded 10th ranked small college team. Howard Porter topped the Wildcats in scoring with 15.

Gordon Tope and Cliff Meely sparked Colorado's triumph over the Air Force with Tope hitting for 22 points and Meely for 16.

Other top-ranked teams winning were No. 11 Duquesne, 123-55 over St. Vincent College, No. 13 Notre Dame, an 84-75 victory over Minnesota, No. 18 Ohio State, nipping Wake Forest 96-92, No. 19 Drake topping Wisconsin State 106-80 and Houston, No. 20, beating Southwest Louisiana, 89-72. And last season's scoring leader Pete Maravich hit for 31 points, leading Louisiana State past Athletics in action, 71-68.

Defending small-college champion Kentucky Wesleyan captured its 27th consecutive home court victory, downing Drury College 87-66 while the season's first major college tournament opened in Jacksonville, Fla., with Jacksonville whipping East Tennessee State 92-74 and Morehead State, Ky.,

Montgomery and Street Are Winners

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas quarterback James Street and his Arkansas counterpart Bill Montgomery are winners.

Barring a tie, one of them will be on the other side of the fence Saturday at Fayetteville when the top-ranked Longhorns and the second-ranked Razorbacks match their 9-0 season records.

The winner will earn the Southwest Conference championship, a spot in the Cotton Bowl opposite Notre Dame and have a clear shot at the national championship.

Texas has won 18 straight since Street took over at quarterback early last year.

Arkansas has lost once in two years with Montgomery at quarterback, 39-29 to Texas, and has won 15 straight since that game.

Street and Montgomery offer a contrast in styles.

Street, in the Longhorns' Wishbone-T, would rather run, but he can pass.

Montgomery, handles Arkansas' pro-type attack and is a passer who can run.

Street has completed 34 of 71 passes for 575 yards and three touchdowns. Montgomery has hit on 79 of 151 for 1,126 yards and eight touchdowns.

Montgomery has grossed 232 yards rushing, although he has netted only 70, mostly because of losses incurred while passing.

Street has netted 349 yards rushing, averaging more than five yards a try.

"Street, what a competitor," said Arkansas coach Frank Broyles. "He can run, he can throw and he's a great reader of defenses."

"Street is controlled bedlam," Texas halfback Ted Koy wrote in his weekly column for the student newspaper. "He is an excitable and emotional personality who completely thrives on competition."

"Street has never been defeated in his life—outscored perhaps, but never defeated," Koy said.

Texas Tech coach J. T. King had this to say about Montgomery:

"He doesn't have the best passing percentage in the league. He may not be the best runner. But he seems to come up with the play that helps them. He plays a percentage game."

Montgomery has been slow to regain his form of 1968 when he was named Sophomore of the Year. He missed spring practice recuperating from a shoulder operation and then suffered rib injuries in the second game of the season. The condition worsened in the TCU game and Broyles admits that Montgomery should have been held out of the Baylor game, the Razorbacks' fourth of the season.

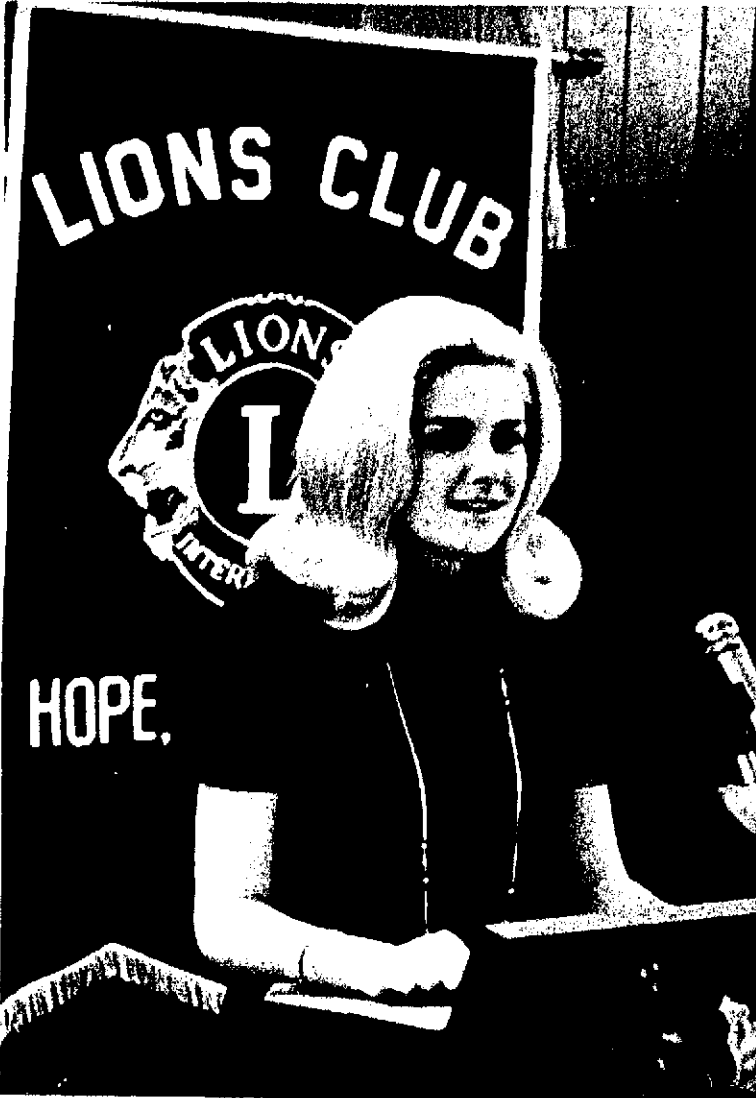

Montgomery, however, broke the Baylor game open with a 48-yard pass early in the fourth quarter.

"Bill made the big plays, even when he was hurting," Broyles said.

Montgomery demonstrated against Texas Tech on Thanksgiving that he was nearing peak form, completing 13 of 22 passes for 220 yards, many on vital third-down situations.

Royal Gets Back a Good Linebacker

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Coach Darrell Royal welcomed back a linebacker and thought of changing punters today as the top-ranked Longhorns began practice for Saturday's nationally televised game with No. 2 Arkansas.

Scott Henderson, a 218-pound junior, missed the Texas A&M game Thanksgiving Day after he suffered a hairline foot fracture in workouts Nov. 18.

"He's still hobbling and will be a little bit limited," Royal told a news conference Monday. "But we have every reason to believe he'll have good maneuverability by the Arkansas game. He'll start."

Royal also said split end Charles "Cotton" Speyrer, a slender sprinter who can run, throw and catch, may take over the punting job from Scooter Monzingo, who booted two 22-yarders into the gusting winds at A&M's Kyle Field last Thursday.

Monzingo has averaged only 35.2 yards on 32 punts, the worst record of any of the regular punters in the Southwest Conference. Royal has tried Steve Adger, a volunteer from a fraternity team, who has averaged 36 yards on five kicks but had one blocked for a touchdown against the Aggies, and Speyrer.

Speyrer has kicked twice for 44 yards, including a 25-yard punt into the wind at A&M. The Port Arthur junior leads the team in pass receiving with 26 receptions for 427 yards, has returned 13 punts for 165 yards, three kickoffs for 60 yards, ran four times for 12 yards and completed his only pass for 37 yards and a touchdown against the Aggies.

Royal discounted any notions that playing Arkansas on its home field at Fayetteville is not an advantage for the Razorbacks.

"When those cheerleaders get at midfield and start yelling 'Sooie,' I haven't noticed any silent sections (in the stands)," Royal said. "They have 38,000 tickets to our 5,000 tickets. That ain't like playing at home."

He said the Longhorns and Razorbacks are so evenly matched that one mistake—a penalty, busted assignment or

Arkansas' Poultry Princess, Nancy Seelig, visited the Hope Lions Club at its noon luncheon Monday and talked on growth and importance of the poultry industry, one of the top 10 agriculture products in Arkansas.

Haskell Jones arranged the program and introduced other guests connected with the poultry industry, Wayne Russell of Hope and Brad White of the Arkansas Poultry Times in Little Rock.

Miss Seelig is from Conway and was a Miss Arkansas contestant in 1967. She is now the poultry industry good will ambassador for Arkansas and has just returned from a tour of Europe.

Forrest Hutson of Pioneer Printing Co. here, was a guest as was Mrs. Amanda Gilbert who is assisting in the paper work connected with the Christmas auction.

Jerry West Still Hottest Cage Shooter

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West, one of the top guns in the Los Angeles' arsenal, continues to be one of the hottest shooters in the National Basketball Association.

West fired in 127 points in four games last week to maintain his league-leading 31.2 average, NBA figures disclosed today.

The 31-year-old Laker star widened his lead over his nearest challenger, Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia.

fumble—could determine the winner.

He guessed that the score would be lower than most people are expecting from Texas, which is averaging 44.4 points a game, and Arkansas, which is a "step behind" at 35.4 points a game.

"They have a good defense," Royal said of the nation's top defense against scoring (6.8 points a game). "But so do we. They'll be on our goal line, and we'll be on their goal line. . . . Or those are the odds. It'll come down to how well you play inside the 20."

Notes From Trail of PGA Tourneys

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Notes from the PGA tournament trail:

A number of the touring pros were extremely upset at an increase of room rates at last week's Heritage Golf Classic at Hilton Head, S.C.

"I've got a schedule of their rates," one pro said. "The place we're staying usually goes for $250 a month. They're charging us $218 for a week. That's almost four times what it usually is."

"I don't think that's fair. Some of these guys are making $100,000 a year out here. Most of us aren't."

"I'm a leading money-spender, not money-winner, I just can't afford this. And I'll bet that a lot of guys will remember it and might not be back again next year."

Dusk was falling during the Pro-Am preceding the Heritage Classic, and one of the amateurs pushed his tee shot into one of many marshes that abound on the course, marshes that are heavily populated with alligators.

He approached the ball, saw a PGA official and asked if the man had seen his ball.

"Right in there," said the poker-faced official, pointing to the marsh.

The amateur took about three steps, then stopped, looked and asked:

"Are those eyes I see in there?"

"They're eyes," said the official.

"I don't need that ball," the man said and walked away.

Jack Nicklaus, one of Ohio State's more well-known graduates, was asked to deliver a few well-chosen words on the Buckeyes' football fortunes—this shortly after the upset by Michigan.

"I," said Jack, "have just moved to Florida."

"Arnold," the reporter asked Arnold Palmer. "The past few years have been known as the Age of Palmer. Do you think that's over?"

"Well, I certainly hope not," said the 40-year-old Palmer; then he smiled. "It's likely for the next few years to be the aging Palmer."

MAVERICK THE SIMPLE MACHINE

Maverick Still $1995.

The best small car value in the world.

IT'S A FACT: Our small car has scored a big success. And the reason is simple—solid value. FACT: Maverick rivals the imports in gas mileage. FACT: Maverick gives you lots of legroom, hiproom and headroom . . . plus 10.4 cu. ft. of trunk space. FACT: Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. FACT: You can stop worrying about rising costs—Maverick is still $1995.

The student took his ace of diamonds and proceeded to draw trumps correctly by leading to the queen in dummy. This play guards against the chance East might hold all four. There is no way to handle four trumps in the West hand.

Trumps broke 3-1 so none of this mattered. What did matter was that the student continued his play by trying the heart finesse. East grabbed the trick with his king and led a club, whereupon West cashed his ace and queen of clubs and then took the setting trick with the queen of diamonds.

The student turned to the professor, "I don't think that I've worked a finesse in the last month. Maybe I should quit bridge and take up gin rummy."

"You were playing gin rummy or some strange game," replied the Professor. "You started out fine with the trumps but once trumps were drawn you had a cinch line of play. Just lead a diamond toward dummy."

"West would have nothing better to do than to take his queen of diamonds and lead a heart. Then you would go up with the ace, discard the four of hearts on the jack of diamonds, and lead the queen of hearts for a ruffing finesse."

"With my luck I would have found the king of hearts in the West hand," replied the student. "So what!" the professor interjected. "You would have shed one club on that queen. West would have been on lead and unable to lead through your king of clubs. He could take his ace of clubs then or later on, after you had shed two more clubs on the jack-nine of hearts but he wouldn't have beaten you."

Making Junior Pay

Six-year-old Jeff, playing cowboys with his cronies, was annoyed by the arrival of a neighbor's four-year-old daughter.

"I'll take care of her," he announced, and gave her a hard shove. The little girl fell over, broke her arm, and later—through her parents—filed a damage suit against Jeff. Despite the boy's tender years, the court rendered a sizeable judgment against him.

It may seem strange to saddle a youngster with such an obligation. But it is no longer rare for a child to be collectible. Perhaps he has money of his own. Perhaps his family has a liability insurance policy that includes coverage for him. Or perhaps the claimant will keep the judgment hanging over the child's head for years, until he grows older and begins to earn wages.

In any event, in the eyes of the law, mere youthfulness alone does not ordinarily prevent liability. Most courts feel that since the loss must fall upon someone, and since parents often cannot be held responsible, it is fairer to let the loss fall upon the guilty child than upon his innocent victim.

Nevertheless, youthfulness may indeed be a defense if the circumstances show a lack of wilful purpose. For example: A four-year-old boy wrapped his arms around the legs of a woman visitor, causing her to topple over and suffer injuries. But in a court hearing that followed, the evidence showed that the hug was a gesture of pure affection. Thereupon the court ruled in the child's favor, because even though his act was intentional, it was not meant to do any harm.

Nor is a child likely to be held liable if the bodily contact is not intentional at all, but simply part of the normal, playful exuberance of childhood. Thus, in another case, a schoolboy was held not liable when he accidentally collided with another pupil while playing tag. The court said: "We should not wish to make it necessary for children to stand about the schoolyard with folded hands for fear they might negligently brush against one of their fellows, and become liable for heavy damages."

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Pregnancies Improbable After 'Change of Life'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What day before or after my period am I most likely to become pregnant?
A—The ovary discharges an ovum about midway between menstrual periods. Pregnancy is most likely to occur in the two or three days following ovulation.

Q—When a doctor speaks of the 10th week of pregnancy, does he figure back to the first day of the last menstrual period, or the time of probable conception—about 14 days later?
A—The time of probable conception.

Q—Is it possible for a woman to become pregnant after her periods have stopped for two years?
A—It is most unlikely after they have stopped for 10 or 11 months.

Q—Not knowing that I was pregnant, I took Midol to ward off premenstrual distress. Will this hurt my baby?
A—The chief ingredients of Midol are aspirin and caffeine. These drugs would injure your baby only if you took large amounts throughout most of your pregnancy.

Q—I have always believed that a late baby was good for parents. When their children have grown and their home is paid for they can give more time to raising a child properly. Are there any special hazards involved when a woman of 41 or 42 has a baby?
A—The hazards involved in delivering a baby after 40 apply only when it is a first pregnancy, in which case the labor is likely to be difficult and prolonged unless a Caesarean section is performed.

Q—What are the symptoms of pseudocyesis or false pregnancy?
A—Cessation of menstruation, morning sickness, pro-

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Americans consume more than 500 million gallons of ice cream yearly. Marco Polo discovered the first known recipe for milk ice cream in China during the 13th century. The World Almanac says. Its use was first recorded during the reign of Emperor Nero in the 1st century. Nero's ice cream consisted of snow, covered with fruit juices. The dish was brought to America in the 1600s.

55 Missing in Quebec Home for Aged

NOTRE-DAME-DU-LAW, Que. (AP) — A home for the aged burned down to the ground in this tiny lakeside community today and police said as many as 55 of its inhabitants were unaccounted for.

Quebec Provincial Police reported that about a score of the 75-80 persons in the building were known to have escaped the blaze that swept through the wooden, three-story building on Lake Temiscouata about 120 miles northeast of Quebec City.

Known to be in the home were 69 elderly patients, 17 of whom were listed as crippled and unable to move about without aid. The home had about 10 staff members.

A male and a female nurse told police they had time only to leap from the windows after seeing flames racing through the building.

The fire started about 6 a.m. Thirty local volunteer firemen and reinforcements from neighboring communities fought in vain against the blaze.

About 15 of those who escaped were taken to a hospital. The others took refuge in private homes nearby.

$508 in Hot Checks Are Passed Here

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin said Tuesday that $508 in hot checks had been accepted by at least a dozen local stores and that a suspect is being held for questioning.

The checks, ranging from $38 to $120, were forged on Fred Glanton. The Sheriff indicated that probably more will turn up.

Mr. Griffin urged local merchants not to accept checks from anyone they don't know. This time of year, the holiday season, is the worst. Know who you are dealing with, the Sheriff urged.

In other police matters an auto stolen in Texarkana by two 15-year-old boys was recovered here by City Officers Clark and Shynard. Both the auto and boys were turned over to Texarkana authorities.

Fire Guts House at Hot Springs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Fire gutted a two-story boarding house Monday near downtown Hot Springs, claiming the life of Lawrence Earhart.

Mrs. Dottie Black, 66, was injured in the fire and was hospitalized at Little Rock. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Figures Apollo Moon Shots Costing Every American a Cool $125

By ALLEN NACHEMAN
Associated Press Writer
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Are you one of those cynics who sit in front of the television set with a pencil and paper during the moon shots and figure what it's costing you in taxes?

The Apollo program is running around $25 billion and the population is about 200 million so each of us is kicking in an average of $125, right?

And you'd like yours back in cash.

I used to feel that way, but the coming of Christmas has brought me to my senses. It hasn't made me more patriotic, just more mercenary. I see now that it would cost me less in the long run to let the government run the space program than to conduct it in my living room, which is the alternative.

This is the season when strange people come into your home through the television set and explain to your children how they can spend twice your salary. And my 3-year-old is beginning to understand what they're talking about.

He sits in front of the set and watches Major Matt Mason driving his space buggy around Venus and he looks at me wide-eyed

Angry Mood of Many Invited to a Hunger Conference Evident

Oil Allowance Fixed; Tax Issue Next

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After settling on a 23 per cent oil depletion allowance, the Senate today tackled the most controversial issue in the massive tax reform bill—a proposal to boost the $600 personal income tax exemption.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., had the support of Democratic leaders for his pending amendment to raise the exemption to $1,000 in four successive annual steps starting next year. But President Nixon is strongly opposed to the increase and there have been indications he might veto the increase.

The administration spent a busy day Monday working to scuttle the amendments. Edwin S. Cohen, assistant secretary of the Treasury, issued a warning that Gore's amendment would cause a big additional net revenue loss to the government which "could not be countenanced."

Sen. Russell B. Long said he interpreted this to mean President Nixon would veto a bill with a $1,000 exemption in it. The Louisiana Democrat, who is Finance Committee chairman and floor manager of the bill, backs the administration in the fight.

In accepting the 23 per cent oil and depletion allowance Monday, the Senate went along with its own Finance Committee.

A House version of the bill cuts the depletion allowance from the present 27½ per cent to 20 per cent.

The final reduction now will have to be worked out in the Senate-House conference.

This was the first time the Senate had voted to reduce the long-disputed allowance since the 27½ per cent figure became law in 1926.

The allowance and personal exemption were the most bitterly disputed items in the bill.

Gore's tax reduction package with a $1,000 exemption would reduce taxes $14.8 billion in the long run compared with $9 billion of relief in the measure as approved by Finance.

Food, Nutrition and Health, Nixon urged support for three measures pending in Congress which, he said, "should virtually eliminate the problem of poverty as a cause of malnutrition."

One measure would put a floor under the income of every American family, supplementing or providing incomes for 25 million persons.

Nixon said the meeting of experts in the field marks an historic milestone and added: "It sets the seal of urgency on our national commitment to put an end to hunger and malnutrition due to poverty in America."

The President, who got a view of the angry mood of many of the persons invited to the conference even before his scheduled keynote address, said the central question until now has been whether the nation would accept the problems of malnutrition as a national responsibility.

"That moment has passed," Nixon said. "... Speaking for this administration, I not only accept the responsibility—I claim the responsibility."

He said while action is required by our national conscience, practical terms compel action.

Money is one factor in eradicating malnutrition, Nixon

Arkansans Not Paying More Taxes Than Other States, Study Shows

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A comparison of per capita incomes and per capita taxes shows that Arkansas is not paying more than all other states.

In fact, taxpayers in three neighboring states are paying at a stiffer rate.

The latest figures on per capita income shows Arkansas' is $2,322 against a per capita tax of $199 in fiscal 1967. The tax equals .085 of the income.

The three states paying a higher percentage of per capita income in per capita taxes are Mississippi, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Tennessee, Texas and Missouri pay at a smaller rate.

The per capita tax in Mississippi equals .090 of its per capita income; in Oklahoma, the tax equals .089 of the income; and in Louisiana the tax is .099 of the income, the highest rate of the seven states.

The lowest rate is in Texas, where the tax equals .075 of the per capita income. The rate in Missouri is .079 of the income and in Tennessee the tax is .082 of the income.

The state and local tax figures were supplied by the Commerce Clearing House in Chicago. The per capita income figures were provided by the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

The per capita tax estimates were $199 for Arkansas, $196 for Mississippi, $212 for Tennessee, $229 for Texas, $258 for Oklahoma, $260 for Missouri and $261 for Louisiana.

Preliminary reports for fiscal 1968 by the Commerce Clearing House have indicated

Little Change Expected in Weather

Clear skies and not much change from the mild temperatures the state has been experiencing is expected through Wednesday.

An Arctic cold front, however, is now pushing through the northern plains and is expected to continue southeastward, entering Arkansas late Wednesday.

Clear skies are expected to continue over Arkansas through Thursday. No rain is forecast. Overnight lows around the state included 33 at Harrison, El Dorado, Memphis and Little Rock, 25 at Fayetteville, 28 at Jonesboro, 35 at Pine Bluff, 31 at Blytheville and 39 at Texarkana.

Shelling Kills Many Americans

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Enemy shelling killed more Americans during the past 24 hours in Vietnam than in any other 24-hour period for nearly four months, the U.S. Command reported today.

U.S. headquarters also announced that American artillery bombarded North Vietnamese troops in the northern half of the demilitarized zone for the first time in two months after the enemy soldiers fired on and damaged a small U.S. observation plane.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 enemy artillery, rocket and mortar attacks were reported between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. today and that seven Americans were killed and 122 wounded.

The spokesman said this was the highest American death toll from such attacks since Aug. 11-12, when 11 U.S. troops were killed and 122 wounded in 149 shelling attacks.

Despite the comparatively heavy American toll in the past 24 hours, a U.S. communique said only two of the 30 attacks were against U.S. units or installations. A spokesman explained that some of the American casualties were at South

Bad Day for Men Born Sept. 14, Last Names Start With Letter J

By STAN BANJAMIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men from 19 to 26 years old born on Sept. 14 who have last names starting with the letter J will be the first ones drafted next month under the nation's first Selective Service lottery in a generation.

In less than an hour and a half Monday night, all 365 days of the year plus Leap Year's Feb. 29 were drawn at random from a big glass laboratory jar at Selective Service headquarters here.

The order in which they emerged, rolled up in blue plastic capsules, determines the order in which men with matching birthdays will be called for the draft next year—or, for those now deferred or exempt—in any future year when they become "1-A."

North Korea to Release U.S. Pilots

SEOUL (AP) — U.S. military headquarters announced today that three American helicopter crewmen downed in North Korea Aug. 17 will be released Wednesday at the Panmunjom truce village.

A military spokesman said U.S. and North Korean representatives would meet at 11 a.m.—9 p.m. Tuesday EST—for the release of the three fliers.

They are expected to be sent to the U.S. Army's 121st Evacuation Hospital 20 miles west of Seoul for a medical checkup before being flown back to the United States.

The three men are Capt. David H. Crawford of Pooler, Ga., Spec. 4 Herman E. Hofstatter of Lowpoint, Ill., and WO Malcolm V. Loeppke of Richmond, Ind. The North Koreans reported that Crawford and Hofstatter were seriously injured and Loeppke was slightly injured, then later reported them in "normal condition" after treatment.

They were shot down in a small helicopter while on a training flight. The U.S. Command said they got off course, and the North Koreans said they were downed near Kumchon, 15 miles north of Panmunjom.

Informed sources reported that the United States would give the North Koreans a letter of apology in exchange for the men. The North Koreans had demanded that the United States admit the helicopter was on a hostile mission, a demand American representatives rejected, but it was not known just what the letter would say.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a House resolution supporting President Nixon's "efforts to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam" have slammed the door on amendments and latched it tight in preparations for passage of the measure today.

Critics of a procedure under which no amendments are allowed on certain measures were beaten 225-132 in their effort to open up the resolution Monday.

Then the House voted 251-100 to approve the closed rule permitting four hours of debate before passage of the resolution which is sponsored by 316 of the 434 House members.

"The time has come to show that the vast majority of us do support the President in his negotiating efforts," said Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., a chief sponsor of the proposal which Nixon hailed in an extraordinary personal appearance in the House Nov. 6.

Nixon Will Definitely Attend Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is flying to Arkansas Saturday to watch the Texas-Arkansas game that might determine the No. 1 team in the nation by most polls and the championship of the Southwest Conference.

Texas has been rated No. 1 and Arkansas No. 2 by the Associated Press since Michigan upset Ohio State.

The game will be played on Arkansas' home field at Fayetteville.

And in honor of the 100th anniversary year of American football, Nixon will present a presidential plaque to the victor. What happens in the event of a tie, the White House wasn't saying.

Nixon was invited to see the big game by John Mooney, president of the Football Writers Association of America and sports editor of the Salt Lake City Tribune.

Probers Are Admitted to My Lai

By JAY SHARBUTT
Associated Press Writer
MY LAI, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese legislators investigating an alleged 1968 massacre of civilians by U.S. troops entered this shattered hamlet today after being delayed by a South Vietnamese military operation.

Adding atop two tanks, the legislators brought with them four civilians who said they lived in or were near the hamlet during the alleged massacre of 100 or more villagers.

The legislators said the civilians told them they had not actually seen American soldiers shooting unarmed men, women and children in My Lai on March 16, 1968, but heard shooting and civilians crying.

Sen. Tran Van Don, leader of the investigating team who is chairman of the Senate Defense Committee, had been held up in nearby Quang Ngai with his investigating team. South Vietnamese officers told them they could not enter My Lai until militiamen secured the area and made sure it was clear of Viet Cong.

Despite indications armed Viet Cong remained in the area following the South Vietnamese clearing operation, the hamlet was found empty.

Two men among the four civilians accompanying the legislators said they survived the incident by escaping into nearby paddy fields.

They told the legislators they saw the Americans entering the hamlet and "heard firing and people crying," reported Sen. Don, who acted as interpreter.

The two men said the women, children and old men in the hamlet—which at the time was under strong Viet Cong control—"gathered together in groups to show they weren't firing weapons."

The men ran out of the hamlet and came back when the Americans left at about 4 p.m., Don said. The two men pointed at a water-filled ditch about 1,000 yards from the hamlet and said they saw 30 bodies lying there after the U.S. troops had gone.

Don's nine-man legislative team—four senators and five House members—arrived Monday in Quang Ngai. He said he wanted "to get at the truth" and learn why the massacre "was kept a secret" if it actually occurred.

On Monday, an American artillery barrage directed at Viet Cong positions near My Lai forced the committee of senators and national assemblymen back just as it reached the outskirts of the cluster of abandoned hamlets.

American officers at Quang Ngai scoffed at newsmen's suggestions that the South Vietnamese operation today was an attempt by the Saigon government to frustrate Don's efforts because he is a leading political rival of President Nguyen Van Thieu. The militiamen in Quang Ngai are controlled by the province chief, Col. Ton That Khien, whose own investigation was the basis for a government finding that no massacre of civilians by U.S. troops ever occurred at My Lai.

The government has clung to that official view even though the U.S. Army has charged a lieutenant with premeditated murder of 103 civilians at My Lai and a sergeant with assault with intent to murder. Twenty-four Americans are under investigation.

Don conferred Monday with Khien, who has said he doubts the villagers' accounts of a massacre but believes that about 20 civilians—along with many Viet Cong—were killed by U.S. bombs and artillery during a battle for the village.

Hippies Held In Slaying of Seven Persons

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two members of a wandering band of hippies were under arrest today and a third was being sought in the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six others here last August.
Police said they would seek murder indictments against "four or five" other persons.
The honey blonde actress and four others were murdered at Miss Tate's Bel Air mansion Aug. 9. The following day, several miles away, a wealthy merchant and his wife were killed in a so-called "copycat" slaying.
Under arrest were Charles D. Watson, 24, of Copeville, Tex., and Patricia Kernwinkel, 21, of Los Angeles. Being sought was Linda Louise Kasabian, 19, also of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles Times said members of a hate-oriented, cult band of hippies were suspected of the seven slayings, as well as at least four other "grotesque" murders in the Los Angeles area.
The Times said police believe the victims were killed both to "punish" them for their affluent life style and to "liberate" them from it.
The newspaper said the police break in the case came two weeks ago when a young woman member of the hippie band told a police informer of the mass murders, recounting details which police said could be known only by the killers.
The arrests, the search for Miss Kasabian and the indictments to be sought culminate an intensive investigation by 19 detectives, Police Chief Edward M. Davis told a news conference Monday.
Detectives have concluded, Davis said, that the nomadic hippies "who committed the Tate murders" also stabbed the owners of a chain of markets, Leno and Rosemary LaBianca, to death.

The Los Angeles County grand jury is being asked for indictments against "all of the suspects, those we have named in warrants and four or five others, in all seven of the killings," said Police Inspector Peter Hagan.
State troopers hunted through hippie colonies in the Taos area of north-central New Mexico for Miss Kasabian. She is accused in Los Angeles murder warrants of killing Miss Tate, three of her jet-set companions and a friend of the teenage caretaker on Miss Tate's estate.
Miss Kernwinkel, who pulled a hat over her head as police approached, was arrested Monday in Mobile, Ala., on a warrant almost identical to Miss Kasabian's.
Watson, accused in a warrant of killing only the caretaker's friend, Steven Parent, was arrested Sunday in McKinney, Tex., by his sheriff cousin, who summoned him to jail from Copeville by telephone.

The bodies of Parent, 18, and Miss Tate's jet-set companions — Hollywood hair stylist Jay Sebring, coffee heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Voltyck Frokowsky — were found scattered in and around the actress' home.
In both the Tate and LaBianca cases, police said, some of the victims were hooded and the word "Pig" was scrawled in blood. Police termed the killings "bizarre" and "ritualistic."
"The suspects," David said Monday, "appeared to live together in what might be described as a commune... It could have had some religious connotations connected with it."
At the time of the slayings, the group lived at the Spawn Movie Ranch west of suburban Chatsworth, Davis said. They then moved, the chief said, to "near the Death Valley National Monument in Inyo County."

Nixon promised full consideration of any recommendations the conference produces and said he expected "a lively difference of opinions."
A follow-up conference a year from now will re-examine findings and what has been done about carrying them out, he said.
And Nixon pledged there will be no more conference reports gathering dust on government shelves or conference efforts withering in futility.

The temper of many of the 3,000 people chosen to participate — a cross section of America from the very poor to top businessmen and professionals — was crystallized during the taping Monday of a panel on National Educational Television entitled: "Hunger: A National Disgrace."
In the audience participation program, one Negro woman told the panelists "We've been hungry a long, long time."
Another woman from Cleveland shouted at the panel, "We eat to survive. Give people food and they will work. Hungry people can't work."
And the Rev. Jesse Jackson, director of Operation Breadbasket of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and a member of panel, declared "welfare guarantees starvation at 23 cents a day."
On the panel with Jackson were Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.; Dr. Jean Mayer, consultant to the President and di-
